

Galvanising shared agreement around operational and strategic initiatives is increasingly challenging, yet essential for organisational performance. Your people and your teams need a practical methodology they can rely on for working together intelligently to resolve challenges and accelerate execution of their collaborative projects.

The Systemic Stairway® is a practical management methodology equipping people to facilitate and manage collaborative projects in the messy reality of work and life.

During this workshop you will learn that the Systemic Stairway® is a reusable collaboration design that allows you to facilitate collaborative problem-solving and decision-making in a wide variety of team and project situations. A one-day workshop introduces the methodology, and a two-day workshop gives opportunity for additional practice to boost confidence and mastery.

Learning Options.

1. Virtual or in-person

1-day (or 2 x 4-hour)
Optional 2nd day for additional practice

In-house

R27 500*
R27 500*
**up to 20 people ex VAT*

2. Self-study

10 x 20-minute videos @R100 each R1 000 ex VAT

3. Systemic Stairway®

eBook on Amazon and Kobo R280
Hardcopy (excluding courier fees) R375

This workshop will equip you to:

1. Unlock problems that seem overwhelming by finding the right questions to ask.
2. Use systems thinking tools to find priorities and drivers in any situation.
3. Collaborate with other people even when you have conflicting perspectives.
4. Provoke creative thinking and change limiting mindsets.
5. Create executable decisions and strategies that add value to your primary stakeholders.
6. Use your precious energy and limited resources for high impact.
7. Facilitate critical conversations necessary to implement change.
8. Practice the discipline of commitment management to overcome the execution problem.
9. Identify and overcome resistance to change so that your projects are manageable.
10. Use feedback to accelerate your learning and improve your chances of success.